

Woodland Connections for Women

Thursday, May 21st

10AM-12PM

Plainfield

Easy walk in the woods followed by lunch and discussion

Women offer a unique perspective when it comes to caring for the natural world. From managing wildlife habitat to working with your family to determine the future of the land, women face an array of weighty issues concerning land ownership.

Come join other women for some enjoyable time in the woods on a nature walk with naturalist Laurie Sanders, host of NPR's Field Notes, followed by an informal exchange of your questions, problems, and strategies for owning, managing and planning for your land. The nature walk will take us through Judy Williams' carefully tended woods, followed by a light lunch and discussion.

Space is limited so please be sure to register by calling (413) 625-9151 x111 or emailing wferris@franklinlandtrust.org. Directions will be provided upon registration.

Sponsored by Franklin Land Trust, UMass Extension, the North Quabbin Regional Landscape Partnership, and MA Department of Conservation and Recreation.
